RUSS PEASANTS IN PETROGRAD

REVOLTERS AGAINST BOLSHIEVIK REGIME FIGHTING HARD IN FORMER CAPITAL.

(By the Associated Press)
London, Sept. 12.—Russian peasants who revolted against the Bolsheviks several days ago are reported to have entered Petrograd and to have been joined by part of the population, says a Copenhagen dispatch to the Central News Agency. Severe fighting is proceeding in the city and fires have been started in several places.

BUCHANAN-BRAZIE.
Mr. W. P. Buchanan and Miss Alice Brazie were united in marriage at Trenton, Tex., Friday and have returned to Ada. They are at present domiciled at Mrs. Kee's.

POTATOES IN SPITE OF LONG DROUTH
W. R. Riddle left a potato weighing 3 3/4 pounds at the News office, proving that even in the face of a long drouth Pontotoc county can produce something. Mr. Riddle has four acres from which he expects to average at least 200 bushels per acre. Last year it averaged 400 bushels.

ALLIES HEAD FOR PIVOTS

FRENCH TIGHTEN GRIP ON LEFERRE; BRITISH GAIN IN DIRECTION OF ST. QUENTIN.

(Associated Press War Summary)
With Travency's occupation and the height dominating the country to the south, General Petain's French forces have outflanked the important German position of La Fere. This advance by the French over a narrow front of only two miles presages the evacuation of La Fere and general weakening of the German lines before St. Gobain forest. The British in the drive for St. Quentin have reached Verdun, about six miles east of the Hindenburg line running through Cambrai, which with St. Quentin forms the central pivots of German defenses between La Fere and Ypres. German counter attacks here were repulsed near Gausecourt. Artillery activity continues in St. Gobain sector and also between the Aisne and Vesle. In Flanders the British have advanced northeast of Hultuch and west of Armentieres.

HUNS VICTORIOUS AS MATTER OF COURSE

(By the Associated Press)
Berlin via London, Sept. 12.—British forces attacking the German lines on the Flanders front near Armentieres and La Basse canal yesterday were repulsed, according to today's statement from German army headquarters. British attacks along the canal Du Nord line between Marquion and Havincourt also failed, the statement says.

VICTOR BERGER WILL BE TRIED OCTOBER 24.
Chicago, Ill., Sept. 12.—Oct. 24 has been set for the trial of former Congressman Victor Berger of Milwaukee, Adolph Germer and two other prominent Socialists charged with violation of the espionage law. Judge Landis will probably preside at the trial.

ST. MIHIEL SECTOR IS HIT BY ALLIES

ATTACK ON SALIENT EXTENDS BATTLE FRONT TO LINE BELOW VERDUN.

(By the Associated Press)
With American Forces on Lorraine Front, Sept. 12.—(Reuters)—French and American forces this morning launched an attack against German positions on both sides of the St. Mihiel salient. The attack was preceded by barrage fire lasting four hours and so far has been successful. The attack on the southern side of the St. Mihiel salient was on a twelve mile front and the one on the western side on an eight mile front. There was great concentration of Franco-American artillery and entente airplanes are operating in great numbers.

Germans are now falling back on the fronts on each side of the St. Mihiel salient. Though undoubtedly suspicious of American intentions in this region the Germans were unaware at the time of the attack's direction.

Huns Building New Defense Lines.
Paris, Sept. 12.—A supreme defensive line to be called the Parsifal line, is being constructed by the Germans from Antwerp to Metz, says Marcel Hutin in the Echo De Paris. The article also says the Germans are putting Antwerp forth in defensive condition.

Menace to Cambrai Grows.
London, Sept. 12.—British forces have effected a crossing of the Canal Du Nord northwest of Havincourt Field Marshal Haig announced in today's official statement. The canal line here forms the main defense of Cambrai to the southwest. A short distance to the north the British have pushed to the westerly edge of the canal east and north of Moeuvres and established themselves there. In the advance toward St. Quentin the British progressed as far as the western outskirts of Holnon wood, southeast of Attail. The Germans offered stiff resistance throughout.

Quiet on French Front.
Paris, Sept. 12.—Only raiding operations and artillery activities along the French front were reported in today's official statement.

M'CORMICK WINS OVER THOMPSON

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, Sept. 12.—Medill McCormick, republican congressman at large, will contest the Illinois senatorship this fall with James Hamilton Lewis, democratic incumbent, having been nominated yesterday by 62,000 plurality on the face of available returns, over Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago, whose war record was sharply attacked by his political opponents.

PENNSYLVANIA KEEPING RECORD OF HER SOLDIERS

(By the Associated Press)
Harrisburg, Sept. 12.—Pennsylvanians participating in the great war are to be recorded by the history committee of the State Council of National Defense.
State Senator William C. Spruill, head of the State Historical Society, is chairman of the committee in charge of the work. A. E. McKinley is secretary.
The data is to include Pennsylvanians in the naval, military and marine corps service in this country and overseas. Names and service of those in Red Cross work, with the Y. M. C. A., War Work Council, Emergency Aid, Liberty Loans and War Stamp campaigns and all kindred patriotic organizations will be included.
A permanent record of Pennsylvania's war work is to be preserved in the state capitol.

WEATHER REPORT.
Fair weather is the outlook for Friday.

NORMAL EXTENDS A CORDIAL INVITATION

Pres. Gordon of the normal school announces that the term of school just opening will likely be the most important in the history of the institution. The formation of the unit in the S. A. T. C. and the fact that United States soldiers will constitute part of the student body makes this term of school unique.

Mr. Gordon is anxious that full honor may be accorded to the young men who become charter members of the East Central unit of the S. A. T. C. He is therefore inviting to be present at the chapel hour tomorrow the home guards, county exemption board, legal advisory board, council of defense, all Red Cross and other army workers, representatives of the city, of the chamber of commerce, representatives of the public schools and churches. Dr. Phil C. Baird of Oklahoma City will deliver the principal address. It is earnestly desired that young men between the ages of 18 and 21 be present if possible.

DUCHESS OF HAMILTON

Mary, duchess of Hamilton, was "mentioned for her devoted work in the auxiliary hospital" into which her Suffolk home, Easton Park, Wickham Market, was transformed. She has given up all her social duties to devote her entire time to Red Cross work.

PRESIDENT TAKES UP REPUBLICAN ATTACK.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Secretary Tumulty has written to Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, asking if it is true, as a published report states, that on Labor Day in Chicago he said to a gathering of Republican State Chairmen: "The Democratic leaders at Washington would not stop at anything that they believed would insure the re-election of a Democratic Congress this fall. They would even end the war with any kind of a compromise if that would insure the continuance of the Democratic party in power."
It is understood Mr. Tumulty wrote at the instance of the president.

Too Much Education.
"Some men," said Uncle Eben, "gits so educated that dey seems to pay more attention to how dey's expressin' deir-se's dan to whut dey's sayin'."

Peacocks in the Bible.
Among the natural products of the land of Tarshish which Solomon's fleet brought to Jerusalem, mention is made of peacocks (I Kings x 22 and II Chronicles ix 21).

Suffering Described As Torture
Relieved by Black-Draught.

Rossville, Ga.—Mrs. Kate Lee Able, of this place, writes: "My husband is an engineer, and once while lifting, he injured himself with a piece of heavy machinery, across the abdomen. He was so sore he could not bear to press on himself at all, on chest or abdomen. He weighed 165 lbs., and fell off until he weighed 110 lbs., in two weeks.

He became constipated and it looked like he would die. We had three different doctors, yet with all their medicine, his bowels failed to act. He would turn up a ten-cent bottle of castor oil, and drink it two or three days in succession. He did this yet without result. We became desperate, he suffered so. He was swollen terribly. He told me his suffering could only be described as torture.

I sent and bought Theodor's Black-Draught. I made him take a big dose, and when it began to act he fainted, he was in such misery, but he got relief and began to mend at once. He got well, and we both feel he owes his life to Theodor's Black-Draught."

Theodor's Black-Draught will help you to keep fit, ready for the day's work. Try it!

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Upwards of 1500 Edison tone tests have been conducted. More than 30 stars of Grand Opera and Concert have sung in direct comparison with their own Re-CREATIONS and challenged the audience to detect a shade of difference. Of the more than 2,000,000 people who have attended these tests not one could tell artist from instrument; not one could say when it was the singer he heard and when The New Edison.

Why has no other manufacturer ever held tone tests? Why has no other instrument been subjected to the final test?

AT FORMER KAISER

MAASTRICHT, Holland, Nov. 12.—Amid execrations from 2,000 Belgian refugees, the former German emperor's special train left here at 10 o'clock this morning, northward bound. A tremendous crowd of sight-seers had gathered, but the platform was strongly cordoned and William Hohenzollern did not show himself.

His destination is said to be Am-erongen, about 20 miles from Ut-recht, where Count Bentinck has a country seat. But it is not possible to say where he will finally remain, for in order to avoid the curious he may have to keep to the train for a couple of days.

The Evening News appreciates the congratulations received regarding the service given Monday, in handling the peace news. The management feels under obligation to acknowledge publicly the many appreciative statements, and we assure the citizens that it is the endeavor of The News to give Ada and Pontotoc county the very best in the newspaper line that the business of a city this size will permit. It is a source of keen pleasure to us to know that our efforts have been successful and are appreciated.

The credit for the metropolitan service given, however, is not due to the management any more than to the men who do the work in the printery. W. E. Runion, T. W. Bryd-ia, M. L. Chambers, G. O. Kinchen, Bailey Kinchen, John Thrasher and the boys in the shop took off their coats at 3 o'clock Monday morning and worked at the highest speed until 6 o'clock that evening.

FRENCH TIGHTEN GRIP ON LE-
FERE; BRITISH GAIN IN DI-RECTION OF ST. QUENTIN.

(Associated Press War Summary)
With Truancy's occupation and the height dominating the country to the south, General Potain's French forces have outflanked the important German position of La Fere. This advance by the French over a narrow front of only two miles presages the evacuation of La Fere and general weakening of the German lines before St. Gobain forest. The British in the drive for St. Quentin have reached Vermond, about six miles east of the Hindenburg line running through Cambrai, which with St. Quentin forms the central pivots of German defenses between La Fere and Ypres. German counter attacks here were repulsed near Guineau court. Artillery activity continues in St. Gobain sector and also between the Aisne and Vesle. In Flanders the British have advanced northeast of Hultuch and west of Armentieres.

HUNS VICTORIOUS AS MATTER OF COURSE

(By the Associated Press)
Berlin via London, Sept. 12.—British forces attacking the German lines on the Flanders front near Armentieres and La Basse canal yesterday were repulsed, according to today's statement from German army headquarters. British attacks along the canal Du Nord line between Marquion and Havrincourt also failed, the statement says.

VICTOR BERGER WILL

TO LINE BELOW VERDUN.

(By the Associated Press)
With American Forces on Lorraine Front, Sept. 12.—(Reuters)—French and American forces this morning launched an attack against German positions on both sides of the St. Mihiel salient. The attack was preceded by barrage fire lasting four hours and so far has been successful. The attack on the southern side of the St. Mihiel salient was on a twelve mile front and the one on the western side on an eight mile front. There was great concentration of Franco-American artillery and entente airplanes are operating in great numbers.

Germans are now falling back on the fronts on each side of the St. Mihiel salient. Though undoubtedly suspicious of American intentions in this region the Germans were unaware at the time of the attack's direction.

Huns Building New Defense Lines.
Paris, Sept. 12.—A supreme defensive line to be called the Parsifal line, is being constructed by the Germans from Antwerp to Metz, says Marcel Hutin in the Echo De Paris. The article also says the Germans are putting Antwerp forth in defensive condition.

Menace to Cambrai Grows.
London, Sept. 12.—British forces have effected a crossing of the Canal Du Nord northwest of Havrincourt Field Marshal Haig announced in today's official statement. The canal line here forms the main defense of Cambrai to the southwest. A short distance to the north the British have pushed to the westerly edge of the canal east and north of Moeuvres and established themselves there. In the advance toward St. Quentin the British progressed as far as the western outskirts of Holmon wood, southeast of Attail. The Germans offered stiff resistance throughout.

Quiet on French Front.
Paris, Sept. 12.—Only raiding operations and artillery activities along the French front were reported in today's official statement.

NORMAL EXTENDS A CORDIAL INVITATION

Pres. Gordon of the normal school announces that the term of school just opening will likely be the most important in the history of the institution. The formation of the unit in the S. A. T. C. and the fact that United States soldiers will constitute part of the student body makes this term of school unique.
Mr. Gordon is anxious that full honor may be accorded to the young men who become charter members of the East Central unit of the S. A. T. C. He is therefore inviting to be present at the chapel hour tomorrow the home guards, county exemption board, legal advisory board, council of defense, all Red Cross and other army workers, representatives of the city, of the chamber of commerce, representatives of the public schools and churches. Dr. Phil C. Baird of Oklahoma City will deliver the principal address. It is earnestly desired that young men between the ages of 18 and 21 be present if possible.

PRESIDENT TAKES UP REPUBLICAN ATTACK.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Secretary Tumulty has written to Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, asking if it is true, as a published report states, that on Labor Day in Chicago he said to a gathering of Republican State Chairman: "The Democratic leaders at Washington would not stop at anything that they believed would insure the re-election of a Democratic Congress this fall. They would even end the war with any kind of a compromise if that would insure the continuance of the Democratic party in power."
It is understood Mr. Tumulty wrote at the instance of the president.

While the Germans have proved themselves the champion liars of the world since the war began, their latest best example of this gentle art we have yet noted. They are trying to make the Spaniards believe their ships were sunk by British and not German submarines.

No matter how one stands on the question of woman suffrage he must admit that there is a striking contrast in the manner in which the suffragists and antis are conducting their respective campaigns in Oklahoma. The suffragists are dignified and lady-like in all their literature and addresses, while the antis have been sending out stuff in line with old time methods of campaigning in which personal abuse is no small factor and an appeal to prejudice the outstanding feature.

Speaking of gold bricks, how about the advertising of Edmond Normal to the effect that it is prepared to give vocational training in connection with the Students' Army Training Corps? It is well known that possibly the state university and A. & M. and they only are equipped for vocational training, but Edmond is trying to put one over the normals by making a similar claim. Not only that, but in spite of the efforts of the board of education to restrict the activities of the various normal schools to their own districts, and the understanding to this effect among the presidents of the normals, Edmond persists in her old tricks of invading other districts in the ambition to build up numbers. The East Central normal is not being hurt by these unfair tactics, but the young men of the state are being given a name of bunco in order to enroll them at Edmond.

Today's press dispatches tell of an important new development in the battle front. For sometime little has been heard of the Americans and it was surmised that they were being massed for a big stroke somewhere along the line. It now develops that they are concentrated along the southern part of the front where today they launched an offensive against St. Mihiel salient, where there has been little activity in two or three years. This salient forms a deep pocket in the country below Verdun and the new attack is designed to pluck it out just was done at the Marne in July. It is believed that this part of the line is only lightly manned by the Huns and the new movement may prove of great moment, since Hindenburg has his hands full farther north and will not be able to send any great number of men to the relief of this sector in the extreme south. It may develop into a dash to the Rhine, which here is at no great distance from the front and thence into a turning movement that will hasten the German retreat.

HAWAII VOLCANO

THIRTEENTH Eruption

(By The Associated Press)

Honolulu, T. H., Sept. 12.—The great active volcano of Kilauea, on the island of Hawaii, which caused a sensation in the scientific world last February by suddenly discharging a lava flow from its inner pit, is now showing preliminary signs of another eruption.

The molten lake within the crater-mouth is steadily rising and gas pressure is increasing enormously. Spectacular displays are daily being witnessed by visitors.

Scientists stationed at the observatory on the rim of the crater expect that another great overflow of lava will soon take place, with a possible recurrence of activity in some of the fourteen neighboring craters. The lava has already reached to within one hundred feet of the overflow point and is steadily rising.

INVESTIGATE NEW OIL LAND SCHEME

(Special)

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 12.—(Special)—It has come to the notice of the Oklahoma State Council of Defense that plans for selling "oil lands" instead of oil stocks are about to be sprung on the public. In fact, promoters have already announced in circulars the sale, at so much per lot, of lands in oil fields or lands represented as being in oil fields. The public is urged, before considering any proposition of this kind, to insist that these salesmen show their credentials from the Capital Issues Committee.

Your liberality in buying War Savings Stamps indicates that you are helping the boys "over there" on to Berlin.

QUOTA CARDS FOR 4TH LIBERTY LOAN

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 12.—(Special)—During the Fourth Liberty Loan Drive in Oklahoma each individual will know the exact amount which he is expected to subscribe. This will be definitely stated on a quota card which will be in the hands of the person soliciting his subscription. These quotas will be assigned by county chairman after being determined by district committees and passed on by the advisory committee appointed by each county chairman. Individual selling campaigns such as were put on by the Women's Committee and the Boy Scouts in previous drives will be discontinued, these organizations working directly with the county chairmen, and all sales will be made on the quota basis. A half million of these quota cards have been issued by the state office.

District meetings of county chairmen show a disposition on the part of the drive heads to put the issue over without a question or murmur and reports from some of the drouth stricken sections indicate that although this year's crop was a failure the ability of the individual to stand by the government will be based rather on the crops that are to come.

"Oklahoma will not desert the men who are pushing the Hun to the Rhine," declares State Chairman Phillips. "We are now prepared to make sacrifices if necessary, something we have not before been called upon to do."

SOME REASONS FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Mrs. Shuler of New York, speaking at the Methodist church last night called attention to the fact that since war began Canada and England had enfranchised their women and that France, Italy and other allied countries had promised suffrage as soon as the war was over. She quoted President Wilson's letter of recent date to Senator Shields of Tennessee in which he said:

"I do earnestly believe that our action upon this amendment will have an important and immediate influence upon the whole atmosphere and morale of the nations engaged in the war and every day I am coming to see how supremely important that side of the whole thing is."—Woodrow Wilson.

The Ada women are putting on a two day petition drive Thursday and Friday of this week. Stations have been opened at Hope-Conn Drug Store, Gwin & Mays, Surprise Store, Stephens-Wilson, Shaw's, Women serving are: Mrs. B. Norrell, Mrs. J. D. Lasater, Mrs. Tom Hope, Mrs. W. C. Duncan, Mrs. O. W. Morgan, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Kee, Mrs. C. L. Orr, Miss Turner, and all women over 21 believers in woman suffrage are asked to register their names at one of these stations. The question of woman suffrage will be voted on November 5th.

HOW TO SAVE ON TWO POUNDS OF SUGAR A MONTH.

Seven Ways for Daily Sugar Saving

1. Use fresh fruits without sugar.
2. Cook dried fruits without additional sugar; they already contain sugar.
3. Can more fruit without sugar; put up fewer jams and jellies.
4. Use less sugar in tea and coffee; you will soon learn to like it better.
5. Avoid such sugar luxuries as candy, cakes, chewing gum, sweet drinks and sodas.
6. Use honey, maple sugar and syrups and other sweeteners when available.
7. Cut out all desserts or other dishes that require much sugar.

WHY MUST I USE ONLY TWO POUNDS OF SUGAR A MONTH?

Seven ways for short supplies.

1. Our great war program has reduced our sugar-carrying fleet.
2. The sugar requirements of our overseas Army are very large.
3. Our own sugar crop is less than we expected.
4. The small island, Cuba, must feed the world with sugar.
5. We have diverted 50,000 tons of sugar shipping in order that Belgium should have food.
6. Germans have destroyed sugar beet fields and factories in Southern France and Italy.
7. More than 50,000,000 pounds of sugar have been sunk off our shores by German submarines.

MON-DAY LIBERTY TUES-DAY

WITH 'PERSHING'S CRUSADERS' UNCLE SAM ENTERS THE FIELD AS MOTION PICTURE PRODUCER TO SHOW THE STUFF OF WHICH HIS ARMY IS MADE

Full Resources of the Camera and Screen to Be Utilized to Drive Home to Americans the Wonderful Accomplishments of the New National Army, Which Has Sprung Up, Trained, Equipped and Determined to Crush Imperial German Ambitions for World Domination in Record Time.

Into the widely popular domain of motion picture entertainment has come a new and powerful factor. Uncle Sam is now a movie manager. Co-ordination is the dynamo of efficiency and centralization of control its starting lever. Recognizing the great value of visualizing on the screen the scenes of the Great War in order to show a pictorial history of what is being done over here and over there.

The New York Tribune recently said: "This is the first war of submarines and aeroplanes—and it is also the first war of movies. Just at present we should rate the movie as the most powerful ally that hard-pressed democracy has yet been able to summon to her side." In order that this powerful weapon may be utilized to its utmost, the Committee on Public Information, of which George Creel is Chairman, now controls the work of the United States Signal Corps and Navy Photographers, and arrangements have been made whereby the Committee will also handle the work of official photographers of France, England and Italy.

With this comprehensive material at its command the movie history of the war will be co-ordinated so that, instead of detached scenes sandwiched in with other views, it will be shown in complete episodes. There will be a series of big feature pictures under the direction of H. C. Hoagland, the first of which, entitled "Pershing's Crusaders", will be shown at the Liberty beginning Monday.

While it is true that moving pictures were shown of the Russo-Japanese, Balkan and Spanish-American wars, they were mainly isolated scenes, taken in a rather crude manner. They were never assembled with the purpose of showing the progression of events with historical continuity.

D. W. Griffith once said that some day the movie would supersede the printed page in the teaching of history. It has, at any rate, become an equally potent power with the press in moulding public opinion. Recognizing this power, the United States has taken this step so that the real truth about the war shall be shown on the screen. Utilizing this new strong arm of the service, Uncle Sam can more readily dissipate and overwhelm the insidious lies of the Hun.

"Pershing's Crusaders" is distributed by the First National Exhibitors' Circuit, Inc.

WHEN MARINES OF TWO NATIONS FOUGHT OF MORE AIRPLANES

London, Sept. 12.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—British Marines have taken over a section of the front line trenches in France, the British Admiralty has officially announced.

With British and American Marines now in the line it is interesting to recall that this is not the first time that the two forces have fought side by side.

One of the bas reliefs of the splendid memorial to the Royal Marines Light Infantry in St. James's Park, tells the story. It shows an American officer leading a party of British Marines in a gallant attack. The text explains that the charge took place on the night of July 23, 1900, during the defense of Peiking.

Official records can more. They relate that the Chinese had dug a sap leading to within twenty-five yards of a barricade held by the allies and at the end of the sap had built a tower from which they could fire at the defenders. It was necessary to capture the tower and the sap and the forces available were twenty-five British Marines under Sergeant Murphy, fifteen American Marines commanded by Captain (now Colonel) Byers, and fifteen Russian Marines under Captain Vroblevsky.

Captain Myers took command of the whole force and decided that the Anglo-American party should attack the tower. A flank attack was to be made on the barricade by the Russians.

At a given signal the party swarmed over the American barricade. The English and Americans, with Captain Myers at their head, entered the tower, to find it unoccupied. They followed along the sap where Captain Myers was severely wounded in the knee and was disabled. Sergeant Murphy at once assumed command. After a hand-to-hand fight, in which the small body of Russian Marines played a gallant part, the enemy retired leaving twenty-five of their dead.

With very natural pride the sculptor responsible for the memorial proposed to depict a British officer leading the attack but they would not hear of this and for a twofold reason they insisted that memorial should be historically accurate and at the same time they wished to show their admiration for Captain Myers.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

FAIRY QUEEN'S STORY.

"Dear Fairy Queen," said the little Fairies, "Dear Fairy Queen," they repeated, "you haven't told us a story in so long a time."

"That is so, I haven't told you a story in ages," Fairy Queen said. "You will tell us one today, won't you?" the little Fairies asked.

"Certainly," the Fairy Queen said. "Let us ask the other friends," the little Fairies suggested. "We would like to have the Elves, Brownies, Gnomes, old Witty Witch, and Mr. Giant, the Owl and Bogey families and the Goblins."

"Let's have them all," said the Fairy Queen. "And I'll prepare a supper for them after the story-telling."

"Oh, wondrous! Wondrous!" shouted the little Fairies. "It will be a real party."

So they started off to invite the others. And the Fairy Queen waved her wand so that all her messengers came to her and said as they bowed low, "What would you have, Madame?"

"And some of them said, 'What would you have, Royal Highness?'"

"I would have every friend of Fairyland invited to a story-telling party this afternoon," said the Fairy Queen. And the messengers bowed low again and said, "Your wish will be granted. We will obey your command."

Off they went in all directions, and when afternoon had come Fairyland was gay with fairies and their friends, laughing, chatting, playing.

The Fairy Queen had not arrived, but soon she came dressed in a beautiful robe made of goldenrod. On her head was a crown made of wild asters.

"Once, not so very long ago, way off in the deep woods, there were many beautiful wild flowers. They were flowers that grew where it was shady and wondrous shrubs which blossomed in the springtime the woods in these parts were so beautiful."

And the Fairy Queen smiled as she thought of them.

"An old lady had a little cabin home just off these woods. Her only companion was a cat. The cat was black and two paws were white, and the old lady thought they were very wonderful."

"Now and again the old lady had to go into the village to buy food. Sometimes the cat would follow, wearing a little jangling bell, for the old lady wanted to be sure that the cat had lots to eat, but that he would never get a bird."

"That was why she had him wear the collar with the little bell. The bell warned the birds he was coming, so they could get away. He could be heard coming along by the sound of the tinkling bell."

"But this time, when the old lady went into the village the cat was sleepy and sat on the porch in the sunshine."

"Will you come, pussy?" she asked. But the pussy blinked his eyes as though to say, "I am sleepy." So she went off.

"When she came back she found to her horror that the cottage had been burned down. Some one had left a match lighted in the woods, and a fire had started which had spread. But even though the house had burned down the cat sat in front of where the house should be trying to say, 'I am sorry, but at least I am here to welcome you.' And the old lady hugged her cat and said:

"You are always glad to welcome me, and with you here I do not feel so lonely about the house."

"But," said the Fairy Queen, "I used my magic wand, and in three minutes, and four seconds and two quarters seconds the house was up again—and the old lady had both her home and her cat."

"That was a real fairy tale," the tables and their friends all said.

"It was indeed," said the Fairy Queen. "It was about make-believe characters for a make-believe story, but that makes it a real Fairy Tale, eh?" And then they all enjoyed the Fairy Queen's fine banquet.

Mushrooms Thrive, Too.
A queer place is Wall street. Who would ever imagine they could see flowers blooming in this busiest of streets? Yet there is one firm in the financial district who evidently likes to have a touch of nature about its place of business. On the broad window sill of a Wall street skyscraper are window boxes from which blooming flowers rise. No one else in Wall street, or for that matter, in any of the New York downtown districts, thinks of flowers, of color, of charm in business life. Flowers are for country greenhouses or Fifth avenue show windows out with them, says Wall street.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by Dr. J. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy. It is taken internally and acts through the Blood and mucous surfaces of the system. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Cure fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

BOLSHEVIRI FORCES IN SIBERIA SCATTERING.

Vladivostok, Wednesday, Sept. 4.—The Siberian front has disappeared overnight. In the words of an American authority, it has "moved 4,000 miles to the westward." Communication has been completely established between Vladivostok and Irkutsk. Czechoslovak forces have broken through Lake Baikal in the direction of China under Captain Galda, while General Semenov's Cossacks, supported by Czechoslovakians, have approached the trans-Baikal capital from the Onon river.

The bolshevik forces, seemingly overawed by the presence of the entente allies troops, have scattered. Some of them have gone in the direction of Khabarovka and others are supposed to be fleeing northward by way of the Amur railway.

Military officials said it would not be surprising to find that the bolsheviks had dissolved into non-combatant groups, only seeking amnesty from the entente allies.

URGED TO SLAY AND SPARE NOT

German Soldiers Incited to Acts of Cruelty by General Von Bissing.

'EMANATION OF HIGH KULTUR'

Governor General of Belgium on Record as Declaring the Innocent Must Suffer With the Guilty—Irvine Cobb's Tale of Horrors.

The horrors deliberately and systematically inflicted upon the people of Belgium by the German soldiers, under the orders of their commanding officers, are shown in all their hideousness by official documents and the testimony of eye-witnesses, as well as by letters written by German soldiers in the field. The brazen effort of Emperor William to cast the odium of the fearful deeds on the Belgians is also shown. Quotations given are from documents already made public or in the possession of the government at Washington.

This interview was reproduced in the Berliner Tageblatt of November 20, 1914.

Mr. F. C. Walcott of the Belgian relief commission tells in the Geographic Magazine for May, 1917, of meeting Gen. von Bernhardt:

"As I walked out, Gen. von Bernhardt came into the room, an expert artilleryman, a professor in one of their war colleges. I met him the next morning, and he asked me if I had read his book, 'Germany in the Next War.'"

"I said I had. He said: 'Do you know, my friends nearly ran me out of the country for that?' They said, 'You have let the cat out of the bag.' I said, 'No, I have not, because nobody will believe it.' What did you think of it?"

"I said, 'General, I did not believe a word of it when I read it, but I now feel that you did not tell the whole truth,' and the old general looked actually pleased."

Speaking on August 29, 1914, at Munster, of the extreme measures which the Germans felt obliged to take against the civil population of Belgium, Gen. von Bissing said:

"The innocent must suffer with the guilty. In the repression of the enemy, human lives cannot be spared, and if isolated houses, flourishing villages, and even entire towns are annihilated, that is assuredly regrettable, but it must not excite ill-timed sentimentalism. All this must not in our eyes weigh as much as the life of a single one of our brave soldiers—the rigorous accomplishment of duty is the emanation of a high kultur, and in that, the population of the enemy countries can learn a lesson from our army."

Officers Encouraged Atrocities.

Gen. von Bissing, after his appointment as governor general of Belgium, repeated in substance the above opinion to a Dutch journalist. The interview is published in the Dusseldorfer Anzeiger of December 8, 1914.

Irvine Cobb states his conclusions on the responsibility of the higher German command for the atrocities:

"But I was an eyewitness to crimes which, measured by the standards of humanity and civilization, impressed me as worse than any individual excess, any individual outrage, could ever have been or can ever be; because these crimes indubitably were instigated on a wholesale basis by order of officers of rank, and must have been carried out under their personal supervision, direction, and approval."

"Taking the physical evidence offered before our own eyes, and measuring it with the statements made to us, not only by natives, but German soldiers and German officers, we could reach but one conclusion, which was that there, in such and such a place, those in command had said to the troops: 'Spare this town and these people.' And there they had said: 'Waste this town and shoot these people.' And here the troops had discriminatedly spared, and there they had indiscriminately wasted, in exact accordance with the word of their superiors."

—Irvine Cobb, Speaking of Prussians, New York, 1917, pp. 32-34.

Woodward German People.

These ideas, then, were systematically impressed upon the military and official classes. It was necessary, however, to work upon the minds of the German people, so that they might lend themselves to the inhuman policies advocated by the military leaders. To do this was difficult, for, as has been shown often, many of the civilian leaders of public opinion, time and again, expressed their horror of the new spirit which was animating the military authorities. The reichstag debates give ample evidence of this, and the task of the military leaders would have been still more difficult if the reichstag had any real power. (See War Information Series No. 3, "The Government of Germany," see also Gerard's "My Four Years in Germany," chapter 2.)

The military authorities and those in sympathy with them have done all in their power to stimulate a hatred of other peoples in the minds of the Germans. A campaign of education before the war was carried on with the object of impressing upon the minds of the Germans the treacherous nature of the peoples against whom the military leaders were anxious to wage war. Not only were the Germans gradually led to believe that it was necessary to fight a defensive war against unscrupulous foes, but also that these foes would violate every precept of humanity, and consequently must be crushed without mercy as a measure of self-defense. The fruits of this campaign of suspicion and hatred became evident when almost at the outbreak of the war many Germans became possessed with the belief that the whole population of Belgium, the first country to be invaded, had violated every rule of honorable warfare, that the franc-tireurs (guerrillas) were everywhere present doing their deadly work in secrecy or under the cover of darkness; that women and even children were mutilating and killing the wounded or helpless prisoners.

Extract from a letter written by a German soldier to his brother: (This letter, now in the possession of the United States government, was obtained for this pamphlet from Mr. J. C. Grew, formerly secretary to the United States embassy at Berlin.)

"November 4, 1914.

"The battles are everywhere extremely tactless and bloody. The Englishmen we hate most and we want to get even with them for once. While one now and then sees French prisoners, one hardly ever beholds French black troops or Englishmen. These good people are not overlooked by our infantrymen; that sort of people is moved down without mercy. The losses of the Englishmen must be enormous. There is a desire to wipe them out, root and all."

Urged to Kill Without Pity.

Extract from another letter to a brother:

Schleswig, 25, 8-14 (Aug. 25, 1914).

"Dear Brother, You will shortly go to Brussels with your regiment, as you know. Take care to protect yourself against these civilians, especially in the villages. Do not let anyone come too near. They are very clever, cunning, fellows, these Belgians; even the women and children are armed and fire their guns. Never go inside a house, especially alone. If you take anything to drink make the inhabitants drink first, and keep at a distance from them. The newspapers relate numerous cases in which they have fired on our soldiers whilst they were drinking. You soldiers must spread around so much fear of yourselves that no civilian will venture to come near you. Remain always in the company of others. I hope that you have read the newspapers and that you know how to behave. Above all have no compassion for these cut-throats. Make for them without pity with the butt-end of your rifle and the bayonet."

"Your brother, WILLI."

The emperor gave his sanction to the reports of the brutal acts of the Belgians in a telegram to President Wilson.

"Berlin, via Copenhagen, Sept. 7, 1914.

"I feel it my duty, Mr. President, to inform you as the most prominent representative of principles of humanity, that after taking the French fortress of Longwy, my troops discovered there thousands of dum-dum cartridges made by special government machinery. The same kind of ammunition was found on killed and wounded troops and prisoners, also on the British troops. You know what terrible wounds and suffering these bullets inflict and that their use is strictly forbidden by the established rules of international law. I therefore address a solemn protest to you against this kind of warfare, which, owing to the methods of our adversaries, has become one of the most barbarous known in history. Not only have they employed these atrocious weapons, but the Belgian government has openly encouraged and long since carefully prepared the participation of the Belgian civil population in the fighting. The atrocities committed even by women and priests in this guerrilla warfare, also on wounded soldiers, medical staff and nurses, doctors killed, hospitals attacked by rifle fire, were such that my generals finally were compelled to take the most drastic measures in order to punish the guilty and to frighten the bloodthirsty population from continuing their work of vile murder and horror. Some villages and even the old town of Louvain (Louvain), excepting the fine hotel de ville, had to be destroyed in self-defense, and for the protection of my troops. My heart bleeds when I see that such measures have become unavoidable and when I think of the numerous innocent people who lose their home and property as a consequence of the barbarous behavior of those criminals. Signed, William, Emperor and King. "GERARD, Berlin."

Lorenz Muller in the German Catholic Review, Der Feis, February, 1915, made the following statement in regard to the emperor's telegram:

"Officially no instance has been proven of persons having fired with the help of priests from the towers of churches. All that has been made known up to the present, and that has been made the object of inquiry concerning alleged atrocities attributed to Catholic priests during this war, has been shown to be false and altogether imaginary, without any exception. Our emperor telegraphed to the president of the United States of America that even women and priests had committed atrocities during this guerrilla warfare on wounded soldiers, doctors and nurses attached to the field ambulances. How this telegram can be reconciled with the fact stated above, we shall not be able to learn until after the war."

AMERICAN FLYING FIELD IN FRANCE

American Aviation Center, Issoudun, France, Sept. 12.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—This American flying camp is the largest in France and is said to be greater than any other in the world. A flying field of 36 square miles, the area of an American county, with nine separate flying fields on which American aviators advance to the stage of flight combatants, and airplanes—Liberties, Nieuports, Capronis and all the others with officers, instructors and newly equipped aviators swelling our squadrons each month—these were some of the main features of this vast aviation ground.

As The Associated Press correspondent entered one of the fields a big gray machine rose from a nearby field with a loud droning noise.

"There goes a Liberty airplane," said one of the officers. It was one of the fastest—increasing number now coming, and every flight was watched with keenest interest and growing enthusiasm by those who will put it to the supreme test on the fighting front. Only one opinion was heard among these men, that it was the biggest and fastest machine of them all. It was doing wonders in quick ascent, and besides straight-away flight it had been put through all the intricacies of acrobatic flight and had been pronounced equal to the whole range.

Groups of aviators were lined up as we arrived, preparatory to taking the air. They were lithe, stocky, young men, like two football eleven about to take the field. The flying grounds stretched off for miles—nine fields of four square miles each—all clean-cut stubble fields on which the machines could light without shock. Above them circled countless planes, singly and in squadrons drawn out like wild geese, looping and diving and in all the evolutions of flight, with groups of acrobatic planes over to the right making headlong spirals wing-slips and reverses.

In the foreground rose a city of barracks, one-story pine shacks 100 feet long, not very highly ornamental but very practical. Fully a thousand of these barracks had risen on this level plain to house the army of flying men on the way to the fighting line.

"We went from field to field to note each stage in the development of combat aviators. Generally speaking, it was explained, there are three distinct branches of this aviation warfare: Chase and combat work in which most of the fighting occurs, bombardment of enemy forces, camps and towns, and scouting or reconnaissance work for purposes of observation of enemy activities. It is for combat and bombardment that the training is done here, and of those going forward monthly about four-fifths are combatants and one-fifth bombardment pilots.

"These are the 'grasshoppers,'" said the captain as we came to field No. 1, where the initial ground work and theory of flight begins. The grasshoppers were diminutive machines with just enough horse-power to jump over the ground, and occasionally rise ten feet. The men call them taxis and rollers. They were skipping about singly and in squads. Two were having a race across the plain and one taking a dive buried its nose in the ground. This was the circus part of flying, at the start, but there was plenty of very practical work beside, with motor instruction, gunnery, trap shooting, rifle range and machine-gun firing. Small dummy airplanes dotted the field as targets, and the bounding grasshoppers took their shots and were rated by the watching instructors.

On the second field the aviators had left their grasshoppers and were in a double-control machine accompanied by an instructor. They were getting the "feel" of the machine in actual flight, and if the rudder was not manipulated deftly the instructor was here to make the correction. And it was necessary here to learn how to come down as well as to go up, and to come down at a definite point. Small numbered flags marked the landing point of each machine, and the descent must be made close up to this flag.

The captain of field No. 3 was about to step into the "Flying Dragon," one of the most curious machines of the fleet, for besides being a very fleet 15-meter car, it was famous for its dragon body, with flaming scales and tentacles and great red eyes. Here on this field the aviators entered single-control machines, without an instructor, and for the first time took their own risks.

On Field 4 it began to develop whether the aviator could qualify as a combat aviator, or for bombardment or scout observation. He was now in a fast machine with a wing-surface of 18 meters and was beginning to make dips and high air manoeuvring. He was being accustomed to all types of machines. There was a fleet of one of these strange types drawn across the plain. Their chief novelty was in having ball-bearings on all their mechanism, giving a half-trigger response to the slightest touch.

"If you sneeze, you loop the loop" was the way the officer explained the delicacy of this mechanism.

Progress is rapid now that it is evident what a flyer can do. He enters a very fast machine at No. 5, with 15-meter wings capable of making 120 miles an hour. Some of the men drop out of the training at this point, as it has become evident that they lack the deftness or get faint at the height or the heat of the motor. The rest go on to field No. 6 where they begin pursuit work and some of the early stages of acrobatic nose dives and slips.

"There is nothing freakish about these acrobatics," said the officer "for they are one of the most essential parts of combat aviation. To be in a chase and pursuit pilot one must be able to out-manoeuvre the enemy aviator; to make quick turns under fire and get above your adversary or on his tail. One or the other will be out manoeuvred, and the fastest man wins the game. The enemy is very skillful at acrobatics, and he must be beaten at his own game."

Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt was in command of field No. 7 while he was here, and the car of the late officer stood in the hangar with a group of flyers about it paying tribute to the splendid qualities and daring of their late leader. His good humor was recalled by the name he had given his car, "Doc Yak" and the doctor with his flowing whiskers was painted in flaming colors on the side of the car.

This is the field on which formation flying is begun, in squadrons up to 18 machines but usually with five. The squadron flies in V-shape, with the commander at the apex of the V, carrying a streamer which signals the commands. A fleet of 15 machines was starting as we passed, and another had just come after two hours in the air, ending with a figure eight, a difficult evolution executed by crossing the controls" so that the rudder serves as elevator and the elevator serves as rudder. At night this field is lighted by powerful searchlights, and night flying goes on from 10 o'clock until daylight.

On the combat and acrobatic fields, Nos. 8 and 9, scores of machines were in the air going through their fighting evolutions or dipping and looping. The combat airplanes carried camera guns, a novel device combining a dummy machine gun and a photographic camera. It took like a gun, but as the trigger is pulled, the camera takes a picture of the target, showing just what would have been hit if a shot instead of a lens had blazed ahead.

It was over the acrobatic field that the real wonders were going on in the vertical virage, spirals and wing-slips. Spectacular as these seemed to be, each had its use in the fighting game. The "virile" is the dizzy head-first tumble, and the chief thing is not to do it but to undo it and come out of it. It has its uses too in deceiving an enemy into the belief that the aviator has been hit and is tumbling, then as the enemy is off guard, attacking him suddenly as the aviator comes out of his headlong dive. One of the flyers made four virilles as we watched.

"It is dangerous only when near the ground," said the escort. "High in the air there is comparatively no danger for there is plenty of time to set your levers so that you're sure to come out of the virile."

Others were doing the spiral, another form of head-first dive except that the car is always under control whereas in the virile the control is lost until the aviator succeeds in emerging from his fall. Often the machines seemed to stop suddenly, turn over and then glide away in the opposite direction right side up.

One of the best manoeuvres for escape from a dangerous fight is the vertical wing-dip, as it is the fastest means of losing altitude and getting below an unequal combat. When an acrobatic manoeuvre misses or is badly done it is a "pancake" or a "bart rel." There is as much lingo to the aviation field as there is to the baseball diamond.

Leaving the field we passed a crippled aviator limping on crutches. "He has had 21 crashes," said the officer "which is about the record. But he goes back every time and he's eager now to get in his machine again. And that is the spirit of every man here, to be ready for combat and to beat the Boche."

AT THE FOUNTAIN

Here is a familiar scene in any Y. M. C. A. building at our army camps. Ice-cooled water "bubblers" quench the thirst of thousands of soldiers, and during a "run" on the fountain the "water line" often extends across the building.

The Army Y. M. C. A. is the enlisted man's club, where he may read letters, buy stamps and post cards, have bundles wrapped free of charge, get money orders, play games and meet his comrades for a social hour.

The bubbling cold water fountain is one of the most popular advantages offered the soldiers by the Army Y. in the Southern department, which is composed of Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, New Mexico and Arizona.

Pacific Coast Whales. There are four species of whale common to the Pacific coast—the finner, humpback, sperm and sulphur bottom. The former two are best for meat, not being as oily as the sulphur bottom and sperm. Of these the sulphur bottom is the largest. REUNION VISITORS

TAKE NOTICE

The first part of the Confederate reunion at Tulsa will be a meeting of the Sons and the Memorial Association on the evening of the 24th. The first meeting of the veterans themselves will be on the morning of the 25th, according to official information received from headquarters by Capt. S. H. Hargis.

At this reunion, as in all previous ones, the veterans will be taken care of as guests of the city, while the Sons, Daughters and other visitors will of course pay their own expenses.

In view of the fact that under the plan of ticket sales at reduced rates on the certificate plan will require some little time to make out the tickets and the Frisco agent reunion come early. He suggests that they would do well to be at the station by 9:30, if they leave on the 12:30 train, so that all can be taken care of and none left.
